RESPECT TEACHING AND LEARNING

What is considered "on-grade reading level" for 3rd grade?

Beginning of the year— Level L/Level M

Middle of the year—Level N/O

End of the year—Level P

REMINDER:

- Please send in ANY Clorox wipes or hand sanitizer that you can. I'm trying to ensure we keep things completely clean to save our class from picking up any of these flu bugs going around!

Dear Parents,

I want to give YOU and your child a big congratulations! So far, we've had 100% of our class pass their Math MAP goal for this past test. Many of the students not only passed, but far exceeded their goals. This is an indication that your child is moving right along in his/her learning!

Your child is at a third grade level and is projected to pass ISAT if he/she scored a 194 or above. If he/she is not there, we are going to work our tails off to get there! If they are already there, we are going to work our tails off to push them as far as they can possibly go! But, I need your help!

We are just 7 weeks away from ISAT test. Here are some things you can do to help:

1.) Have him/her read a leveled book (I send them home each week) every night! The more practice and exposure has PROVEN to make a difference.

2.) Have them log into Compass Odyssey Learning at home as much as possible.

3.) Complete homework (all review for ISAT) every night thoroughly.

Weekly Word Patterns (Ask your child what group he/she is in!)

*Your child needs to know how to SPELL and SAY the word study pattern this week! *
